

I strongly disagree with your rush to have a vote on June 2 on the Broadcast Ownership regulation. There has hardly been any input from the citizens of this country (your "boss", in case you have forgotten). Rather, about the only input you care to consider is from the industry you are supposed to be regulating. This clearly sounds like a case of allowing the fox to guard the chicken coop. Permitting even greater monopolization of the media industry will only result in one thing in my view: a much greater step toward fascism in this country, and the ultimate death of democracy in the United States. To me, your actions are virulently un-American and anti-American.
